

CARLO COPPOLA CV

Carlo Coppola began his professional career in 1976 at Gilardini in the Whitehead Division (Underwater Defence Systems) with various roles in manufacturing and logistics. From 1990 to 1996 he was Manufacturing Manager in the Motofides Division of Magneti Marelli. In 1996 he joined the Piaggio Group as Manager of the traditional engines plant and, soon after, also of the Sferoidi engines plant.

He held roles of increasing responsibility within the Group and became Operations Manager in 2005, responsible for six plants. In November 2009 he was appointed Executive Vice President Manufacturing Technologies and EMEA Plants.

He became Executive Vice President Product Manufacturing in May 2022 with responsibility for production, technology and facilities activities as well as after-sales and parts/accessories distribution.
